QTC Medical Record Queuing System, Database Lead

Aug 2019 - May 2020

- Collaborated with a team using Agile methodology to create a workflow ASP.NET MVC application that keeps track of large amounts of medical records for the company QTC.
- My team improved QTC's work efficiency by replacing their manual record processing system with an automated queuing system that sorts medical records based on priority guidelines.
- Created MySQL stored procedures to insert data into the database and also created the endpoints to call these stored procedures using C#.
- Integrated the database to the UI using the Entity Framework, HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript.

EatQuest, Android Developer

Feb 2019 - May 2019

- Collaborated with a team to create an Android application that provides users the nearest restaurants to their location that fit their selected restaurant criteria.
 - Implemented the application's ability to get and display the user's current location and display markers of the nearby restaurants surrounding the user's current location using Java and Google APIs for Android.
 - Developed the overall UI design of the application using HTML5 and CSS3.
